

Interesting Information about The Use Of Human Pheromones

Human pheromones are chemicals in the body that are secreted in order to attract members of the opposite sex. Much research has been done in to the use of pheromones inside different aspects, such as perfumes, in order to ease the process of finding a soulmate. Since the discovery of the chemicals back in 1959, they have been studied and researched by many scientists as well as students with regard to benefits as well as down sides. It is commonly believed that the signals these chemicals are producing and transmitting are primarily noticed in humans by the sense of smell, although this theory is being disputed. Scientists and researchers still search for the exact area, if you have one, of the transmission of these chemical signals.

- Each particular person carries with them their own distinct scent, a scent that emanates from their bodies in different ways.
- Sometimes it is the skin itself that emits the stronger scent while other times it is in human sweat.
- Two people is not going to smell the same because no two humans are identical inside and out.
- Very often, people will hide their fragrance with perfumes, fragrances and deodorants.
- This is often wise, as many bodily aromas are not pleasant.
- It is the subtle chemical emissions from the skin that a potential partner will pick up on, if the match is right.

Pure Success - Pheromone

www.PureMones.com

Pure Success - Business Enhancer with Pheromones

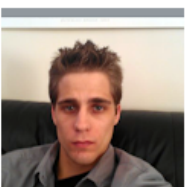

Think private jets and supermodels. Pure Success is intended to emanate the pheromone signature of an billionaire businessman who "plays" on a different level. Pure Success is intended for business situations where you not only need to establish trust, but also show your ability to lead. Gain an upper hand over your peers at your work, radiate the energy of a trustworthy alpha that screams 'upper management'. Try this formula on your next meeting, negotiation, sales call, or even just a normal day around the office.

More about This Product »

While the use of pheromones in research continues to rise, substantial information about it is discovered. Some studies suggest that these chemicals could be responsible for the sexual orientation in people, as gay women and men responded to the same chemicals in the same fashion as their sexual alternatives.

“ Since pheromones have been touted as an aphrodisiac and producers of some perfume companies have claimed they captured the substance and put it in a bottle, there are no proven results that show that people grow to be more sexually appealing by using it.

Discussions on human pheromones continue to this day as more and more people become interested in what they are capable of doing. The topic of attracting a lover is almost as popular as how to keep them once you have them. It is important not to stake all your hopes in unproven theories but it is an interesting subject to research and a new way to approach dating rituals.

“ Demarcus Blanchard

Demarcus is a content marketer at alertexchange.com, a blog about health issues. Last year, Demarcus worked as a post curator for a medical site. When he's not writing health content, Demarcus enjoys hiking and rafting.

Disclaimer: Content in this document is an advertisement, therefore it may be biased and should not be considered an objective or independent review. Owner of this document may be compensated when you purchase a product by clicking a link in this document. The views and opinions expressed in this document are purely of the author. Any product claim or other representation about a product or service should be verified with the manufacturer, provider or party in question. Any health information in this document is for educational purposes only and is not intended to replace the advice of your health care provider.